PRAYER EMPHASIS FOR NOVEMBER

Why Thanksgiving?

“Give thanks to the Lord for he is good! His faithful love endures forever.”

November 2015

November is best known for one day: Thanksgiving Day. Thanksgiving Day dominates the minds and the stomachs of American public during November. Hours are spent preparing for it and hours are spent recovering from it.

We often think that Thanksgiving Day was established to commemorate the first Thanksgiving celebrated by the Pilgrims in Plymouth, MA. That however is not the case. The Holiday was established to give thanks for the Union victory at Gettysburg during the Civil War and God's providence that established and sustained the nation.

The focus of the holiday was to be on God. Unfortunately the focus shifted over the years from God to food, family, and football. They are all good things, even football especially when the Eagles and UD win. Yet they are not the most important blessings to be thankful for.

The most important are God's spiritual blessings. They include the gift of His Son, our Lord and Savior Jesus the Christ; the gift of forgiveness of sins through faith in Him, the gift of His presence through the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, and the gift of the promise of abundant eternal life through His Resurrection from the grave.

As we gather this thanksgiving let us remember those gifts in our prayers. Let me share with you a prayer that you might want to include in your own prayer around your Thanksgiving table. It comes from a book called Common Order. It is the worship book of the Church of Scotland. It was written for Sunday morning worship but seems very appropriate for Thanksgiving worship. Here it is:

*Loving God,
We give thanks for your goodness
and love towards us:
for the joy of home and family;
for the companionship
of friends and neighbors;
for the activities that fulfill our lives;
for the strength that supports us
and the love that surrounds us,
both when our joy is complete
and when it is touched by pain.*

*We give thanks for your Son Jesus Christ:
for the glory of his humble birth,
for the graciousness of his selfless life,*

*for the obedience and trust
that led him to the cross,
and for the triumph
of his resurrection and ascension.*

*We give thanks for your Holy Spirit
at work in your Church and in our hearts,
revealing your truth, renewing our lives,
and bringing us to your eternal kingdom.*

*God of love and power,
We pray for St. Andrew's
and your Church throughout the world,
that through the courage and faith of your people,
your word may be preached and lived.*

*We pray for our community, our country,
and the nations of the world,
that, following the ways of truth and justice,
they may be free from bitterness and strife,
and by the power of your love live in peace.*

*We pray for all those who are in trouble,
that those who are sick may be cared for,
those who are lonely sustained,
those who are oppressed strengthened,
those who mourn comforted,
and that those who are close to death
may know their risen Lord.*

*We give thanks
For those who have died in the faith,
especially those known to us,
who have entered into the joy and peace
of your nearer presence.
Grant that we may follow their example,
and come to share with them
the glory of everlasting life,
through Jesus Christ our Lord,
who with the Father and the Holy Spirit
is worshipped and glorified forever. Amen

Happy Thanksgiving,

John

G. Things to Think About

The Nature of the Church and the Unity of the Church in Reformed Theology

I just completed writing a chapter for my doctoral project on the Reformed understanding of the Church, her unity and her holiness. I would like to share with you what I learned.

The Reformed confessional consensus is that the Church is the communion of believers elected by God through faith. A good summary statement about the Church from our confessional heritage is found in the Heidleberg Catechism. It reads:

54. What do you believe concerning the "Holy Catholic Church"?

That out of the whole human race, from the beginning to the end of the world, the Son of God, by His Spirit and Word, gathers, defends, and preserves for Himself unto everlasting life a chosen communion in unity of the true faith; and that I am and forever a living member of this communion.

The key words and phrases in this definition are "from the beginning of the world", "Spirit and Word", "chosen communion", and "true faith." The key concepts are who gathers preserves and defends the Church and by what means. Jesus “gathers, defends and preserves” the Church. The way that Jesus gathers, defends, and preserves His Church is by “His Spirit and Word.”

Central to the Reformed understanding of the Church is that she is a divine creation and a human necessity. John Calvin wrote that human limitations such as “ignorance”, “sloth”, and “fickleness of disposition” require the Church and the helps that she provides “to beget and increase faith...and advance it to its goal” (Institutes 4.1.1). Without the Church human beings would be lost.

The outward helps that the Church has been given by Christ and empowered by the Spirit are embodied in what are known as the Reformation Notes of the Church. The Scot’s Confession provides a good summary:

The notes, therefore, of the true kirk [Church] of God, we believe, confess, and avow to be first, the true preaching of the Word of God, in which God has revealed himself to us as the writings of the prophets and apostles do declare. Secondly, the right administration of the sacraments of Christ Jesus must be annexed unto the Word and promises of God to seal and confirm the same in our hearts. Last, ecclesiastical discipline uprightly ministered as God’s Word prescribes, whereby vice is reprovved and virtue nourished.

The thing to note is that the Notes are all related to the Word of God. The reason that the Word of God takes such a pre-eminent position is because it is through the Word of God that the Holy Spirit gives birth to, nourishes, and sustains saving faith.

The Word of God makes the Church and continues the Church as the Church. The Ten Theses of Bern (1528) state that:

The holy catholic church...has been begotten from the Word of God, in which it continues.

And The French Confession (1559) explicitly states that where the Word of God is not present then neither is the Church:

...we protest that when the Word of God is not received, and when there is no professed subjection to it, and where there is no use of the sacraments, if we speak properly, we cannot judge that there is any church

One last thing regarding the Reformation Notes of the Church is that they produce the Marks of the Church found in the Nicene Creed. The Word rightly preached, the sacraments rightly administered according to the Word, and the Church discipline administered as God’s Word prescribes through the power of the Spirit makes the Church and keeps the Church one holy catholic and apostolic.

So what is it that unites the Church in the Reformed understanding of the Church? Ultimately It is the Word of God. The unity of the Church is a unity of faith and faith comes from hearing the Word of God (Romans 10:17). The unity of the Spirit mentioned in Ephesians 4:3 is a unity of the Word of God that the Spirit inspired to be written.

It is no surprise then that every time the Church has strayed from the Word of God in regard to her faith, her relationships, or her practices, division has been the result. That was true for the first great schism in AD 1054, the Reformation, and it is still true today.

Let me know if you would like a copy of the chapter to read in its entirety.

Yours at the foot of the Cross,

John

NOTE: Session did not have a quorum at their October 11th meeting. Therefore they were unable to vote or make any decisions.
